

ERASMUS Traineeship in P&G

Description of the company

Procter & Gamble Co., also known as P&G, is an American multinational consumer goods company headquartered in downtown Cincinnati, Ohio, United States, founded by William Procter and James Gamble, both from the United Kingdom. Its products include cleaning agents and personal care products. As of 2015, 21 of P&G's brands have more than a billion dollars in net annual sales. Most of these brands—including Bounty, Crest, and Tide—are global products available on several continents.

The P&G Brussels Innovation Centre in Strombeek (Belgium) is a key training centre for worldwide P&G technical staff and offers research training for the development of fundamental knowledge on biotechnology alternatives to basic chemicals in detergents. We are a pioneer in developing new technologies and innovations in consumer product categories that improve the health and well-being of consumers worldwide, through the application of leading edge science and technology and a deep understanding of consumer needs.

What we are looking for

We are looking for graduate, or Master or Bachelor students in the field of Engineering (Chemical/Mechanical/Electrical/Automation engineering), Life Science (Chemistry, Biochemistry) and Computer science (Artificial Intelligence, Data Science, Automation) that have passion for winning, creativity, innovation, initiative, communication, leadership and the ability to work with others.

Project description

Projects assigned are in the Research & Development area, so mainly tasks combine laboratory experiments, use of equipment with data analysis and reporting/communicating results. It is expected that trainees formulate hypothesis and make recommendations. Trainees will work on their own project as part of a Global project team, having the opportunity to put their technical skills to work on intellectually challenging problems. Moreover, they will have the opportunity to improve their team working and soft skills through practical experience and interactive training courses, and they will learn to work effectively with people of different nationalities and cultural backgrounds.

Funding provided to the students

Trainees will receive a refund for average expenses involved with their stay:

- 1200/month compensation
- up to 200Euros/6 months 1 off for trip back to the home Country
